Whitcomb High Undisputed School Champions of White River Valley.

The Whitcomb high school baseball team won the undisputed school championship of the White river valley when outclassed Randolph high school at Randolph last Saturday, winning 6 to 1 by Hickey's good pitching, the heavy hitting which has characterized the team throughout the season and the splendid fielding of Marshall, Mitiguy and others of the team. The batting record of the game was made by Allen of Randolph, who made Randolph's only run and did about all its hitting, actually getting three doubles in four times at bat. Both pitchers had unusual control, neither giving a base on balls though Mazzolini hit a man. This game completes Whit-comb's season, during which it has won eight of the 11 games played. Whitcomb won both its games with Randolph, both with White River Junction and both with South Royalton, won and lost with Woodstock, won and lost with Chelsea and lost a 15-inning game at West Rutland. The score:

The Attack on Daylight Saving.

Some fear seems to be felt by friends of daylight saving that opponents of sensible and helpful innovation will be able to bring about its repeal by Congress. Opposition seems to come almost entirely from the rural communities; the declaration of Representative King of Illinois to the House committee on interstate and foreign commerce, that the contest was "between the common people and great financial interests" is merely absurd. He unnecessarily defends the electric light interests from the charge of against repeal in order to have its opening and closing synchronize with the stock exchanges in England, where daylight saving prevails. How New York time can be made to "syncronize" with London time which is five hours faster, he does not explain.

That some minor inconveniences are found by many farmers in putting the clock ahead in summer is admitted, but they seem small in comparison with the benefit gained by the country as a whole, and some of them seem to be remediable. The mysteries of de win its relation to daylight saving can perhaps be understood only by farmers, but the milk problem appears to be simpler, since it is conceded that it could be solved by bifting the schedule of the milk trains. Thus it becomes a problem of railroad-ing rather than of farming, and no evidence has been shown that such a read-justment would be impracticable. On he whole it seems likely that the root of the opposition lies in the admirable onservatism of rural communities, which has in all times been a bulwark to society, but which sometimes makes it difficult to get a fair trial even for a barmless and helpful innovation like daylight saving. It may be admitted that rural communities have little or nothing to gain by daylight saving, which is essentially a clever means for making simple and easy a desirable change in the liabits of city people. But on the other hand the disadvantages which people in the country may feel are so slight in comparison with the gain to the nation as a whole that they might well be overlooked in the common interest.-Springfield Republican.

WAR MATERIAL TO MUSEUM. Government Making Extensive Collection of Souvenirs.

It is a pleasure to announce that the United States national museum at Washington is now assembling and has recently begun to install a collection of material relating to the war.

The object of its endeavor is to pre erve an exhibit for the benefit of the public of those things which graphically llustrate the military, naval and air ac tivities of all the countries engaged in the war. In addition to these features the collection will include foods and other economic specimens. On the military, naval, and air side there will be shown decorations, medals, and badges awarded for service; also commemorative medals, marking individual events during the progress of the war, and medallic souvenirs of all kinds; moreover, military, naval and air service insignia showing the different ranks and branches of those services. Then there will be individual military, naval and air equipment, including, of course, the equipment of the individual enlisted men of the various branches of the serv ce, such as clothing, arms, and other paraphernalia. There will also be specimens of general military equipment, in-luding tank, field and machine guns. The naval equipment will include models of ships and naval guns. The air service equipment will include airplanes of course, and other accessories of this new and most important branch of war activity. On the personal side there will be mementos and relics of notable events pictures, maps, books, pamphlets, manuscripts and other objects relating to the progress of the war.-Outlook.

The Crystal palace was destroyed by fire in 1857 and the late Allyn M. Cole-grove of Middletown, owner of the Mc-Donough house block, bought the piano for private use for $1,000 and had it removed to his home, called Colegrove eastle, on the Middlefield road, where it remained mute for more than 40 years. Many old citizens may recall seeing the instrument there in the back parlor, its top forming a storage for discarded and out-of-season hoes, scythes and farming ools for which there was not room on the veranda or in the yard. After the death of Mr. Colegrove, Mr. Smith bought the piano and has had it at his store ever since.-Hartford Courant.

Keep Your Soil Fertile

THE fertility of your soil is your working capital. Everything you have depends upon it. It determines the value of your land, the yield of your crops, the size of your bank account, the measure of your success. Take care of it. Watch it as every business man watches and takes care of his capital.

Every planted acre in the United States that has not been properly fertilized in the past can be made to produce an increase this year. Take that pile of stable manure that has accumulated and spread it on your fields, using a

Low 20th Century Manure Spreader

This is an easy running, light draft, wide spreading machine. It saves labor. It saves time. It saves fertilizer. It increases crop yields. With a 20th Century you can make every acre produce to its limit. It spreads evenly because it gives the manure a double beating, breaks it up into small pieces, and spreads it out beyond the rear wheel tracks. Three sizes - small, medium, and large - all light draft machines with narrow boxes. The size you buy will do just the kind of spreading your soil needs to make it produce bumper crops. Telephone your order, or come in and get a 20th Century spreader. We can make immediate deliveries.
